Martin Rasch is in an interview with AD about creativity, transition, and the extraordinary place where he displays his designs.

to Sweden, Russia, Saudi Arabia and Singapore. It is the first time a company has been named in all four of these countries.

	Watson This girl needs help. She's been drinking since childhood, and her unreliable narrator tells us that she's the only one who can remember the truth about what happened on a fateful night.
	Watson Cassie, with her unreliable narrator, has a way of seeing things that no one else does.
	Watson When Cassie's husband is found by police, she's the only one who can remember what happened.

What kind of glass is it?
